

Position Posting Evaluator

The Ounce of Prevention Fund of Florida is a statewide, nonprofit, research, and development organization with over 25 years of experience identifying, funding, and evaluating innovative social services, education, and health programs to enable at-risk children and families to achieve positive life outcomes.

Position Posting:

The Ounce of Prevention Fund of Florida is seeking an Evaluator for its Research, Evaluation and Systems Unit.

Duties:

- Develop and implement evaluation designs
- Train staff and program sites on the implementation of the evaluation design
- Monitor data collection for data quality
- Conduct statistical analysis per the evaluation design
- Develop reports for program sites, state policy makers and funders
- Identify opportunities and funding for new projects
- Assist in writing grant proposals
- Present at workshops and conferences
- Publish materials related to evaluation and research findings for peer reviewed journals, as appropriate

Qualifications:

Evaluator will have a minimum of a master's degree with an emphasis in program evaluation or research. A minimum of five years' experience is preferred. Time worked in internships and as a research assistant during completion of a degree may satisfy this experience requirement.
