

TITLE: Case Management in Domestic Violence Shelters

FSU Co-Principal Investigator: Linda Vinton, MSW, PhD, Dina J. Wilke, MSW, PhD, FSU College of Social Work

PROJECT ABSTRACT:

Numerous statewide domestic violence needs assessments have shown residents of domestic violence shelters and their children have multiple unmet needs. The need for case management services appears evident, but it is unknown how often case management is offered through shelters. The frequency and nature of these services will be explored along with the factors associated with case management availability.

Funding Sources:

Not funded

Co-Investigators:

None

Community Collaborators:

National Coalition against Domestic Violence (NCADV) domestic violence centers